And with advanced features like Quattro all-wheel drive and LED headlights, Audi cars are always at the forefront of automotive innovation.

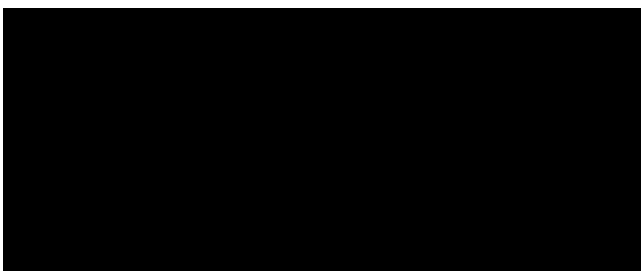

Auto glass damage

Audi windshield replacement is a process where our Audi specialists will do an excellent job by first removing the broken or damaged windshield and replacing it with a new one.

The Audi auto glass process is essential because it helps ensure the driver has a clear road view through the car windows.

In addition, the windshield glass helps protect the vehicle's occupants in case of an accident. The Audi windshield replacement process typically takes about an hour to complete.

However, the replacement time can vary depending on the severity of the damage and which driver-assist features you have in the windshield.

On average, our technicians need one hour (or less) to complete an auto glass replacement. For more complex replacements, the technician needs a longer time, for instance, when we need to calibrate the ADAS systems in your windshield.

Be aware that your vehicle should be left stationary for at least 30 minutes after the glass replacement. This "dry-up" period involves all replacements where an adhesive so it has the time to bond effectively.
