

Clones of Parfums de Marly Layton - FragranceReview.com

Finding a powerful yet feminine scent has always been difficult for me. There is just a fine line between being too masculine, and bringing on a feminine sweetness. When I first found Parfums de Marly Layton, I was shocked to be able to find a fragrance that was so stunningly masculine with woods and ambers while mixing soft feminine elements like florals.

Despite finding such an intriguing fragrance, even I have my limits on what I am willing to pay for luxury. Lucky for me, I did some research and found that I don't need to pay huge prices to get almost identical fragrances.

While they might not be the real deal, these five fragrances will bring a bit of debonair to your day without needing to take up a second job.

What We Are looking for in Parfums de Marly Layton

Inspired by all things elegant, Layton was created in 2016 and immediately woo-ed men and women alike with its strong yet sultry structure. An amber floral fragrance, I find the scent to be versatile for any time of day during the cooler months. To my nose, the fragrance emits a more masculine edge but is cut nicely with softer and sweeter elements that make it just as wearable for women.

Opening with a hint of fruit from a mix of apple, bergamot, and mandarin, the middle note comes in with strong feminine floral notes like jasmine and violet. The drydown is grounded in masculine woody elements mixed with patchouli, vanilla, and pepper.

I find this fragrance takes on a fresh and sweet overtone with darker, more powerful woody elements in its base. The vanilla and spice in the end also add a warmth to the structure which blends well in the colder months.

Incredibly long-lasting and with a sillage for days, you'd think that this fragrance had a little bit for everyone, but unfortunately the price can be a little more than we are willing to bargain for. Thankfully, there are a lot of fragrances on the market today that can bring such long-lasting unisex appeal without needing to pay over-the-top prices. Here are 5 of my favorite Parfum de Marly Layton clones that you wouldn't even know were not the real thing.

1. Dua Royal Chariot Attar

Dua Royal Chariot Attar

Dua Royal Chariot Attar

Dua is always one of my go-to dupe houses for its incredible commitment to its inspired fragrance, and its very affordable pricing. Dua Regal Chariot Attar is no exception with its nearly identical structure to Layton, with a way better price tag.

Opening with a mix of bergamot, apple, and mandarin, the structure blends these sweeter fruit elements with a floral middle of lavender and violet. The fragrance then dries down into a deep and spicy mix of guaiac wood, patchouli and vanilla.

Perhaps a bit more on the feminine side, this is still a perfect unisex fragrance through and through, with a great potential to be used from Autumn to Spring.

Being an Attar, be aware that this fragrance might take some time to mature before it reaches its peak structure. From its opening, I find the scent is a bit richer and it mellows out into a softer structure over time.

2. Alexandria Royal Equestrian

Alexandria Royal Equestrian

Alexandria Royal Equestrian

A more masculine inspiration from Layton, Alexandria Royal Equestrian has an amazing sillage and longevity for a fraction of the original's price.

Opening with citrus and apple, the fragrance quickly dries into deep florals like geranium and lavender before finally settling into a base of vanilla, amber, and woods. To my nose, the base is much deeper and lasts on the skin for a long while, which I find to be a more masculine scent.

With these deeper notes, I find this fragrance perfect for fall in winter months, day or night. While not an Attar like the Dua fragrance, I do recommend letting this fragrance breathe a bit (about 3 weeks if possible) for the best results.

3. ALT. Stallion

ALT. Stallion

ALT. Stallion

If you wanted something with a bit more musk, Alt Stallion has you covered. Focusing much more on the vanilla and pepper in the drydown, this fragrance will feel perfect for fall months and will last for 8-12 hours at a time.

Opening with the same apple and bergamot as Layton, the fragrance dries into a bouquet of jasmine and violet before swiftly leading into a creamy vanilla mixed with pepper, cardamom, and sandalwood.

The musk from the sandalwood mixed with the spices and vanilla will last on your skin for the entire day without needing a reapply. In my opinion, in spite of being a more musk-heavy inspiration, this fragrance works perfectly for men and women just as easily.

4. Oil Perfumery Impressions of Layton

Oil Perfumery Impressions of Layton

Oil Perfumery Impressions of Layton

One of my favorite dupe houses for its on-the-go rollerball packaging, Oil Perfumery never skimps on making a wonderfully inspired fragrance. Despite being bottled for an active lifestyle, Impressions of Layton lasts just as long as the original and has the same amount of depth.

It opens with a quick burst of mandarin and apple before drying down into notes of lavender, jasmine, and geranium. The mix of guaiac wood, patchouli, and sandalwood at the base make the perfume feel very powerful and to my nose, deeply grounding.

What I really like about this fragrance is that I find that you don't lose the softness of the florals within the base layer of wood. Both feel perfectly mixed and last on your skin all day long.

5. Al Haraman Détour Noir

Al Haraman Detour Noir

Al Haraman Detour Noir

Originally marketed for men, this fragrance still has all the components to be a perfect unisex scent despite its audience.

Incredibly long-lasting, this fragrance opens with a touch of almond with apple and vanilla before ushering in a bouquet of jasmine and heliotrope. The drydown of musk, amber, and brandy make a sweet yet masculine base that lingers alongside the almond and vanilla from the opening.

What I like most about this fragrance is that while it has a lot of masculine elements, it is not afraid to keep the sweetness throughout the structure. It is an elegant blend just as alluring as the original Layton.

Finally, I Would Like To Mention

It's not always easy to find a scent that can be perfectly unisex while still elegantly melding to the wearer. There is a fine line that has to come from precision in the structure to balance every note perfectly. While I find that Parfum de Marly Layton does this perfectly, I also think there are many more affordable inspirations that can do the same thing without breaking your bank account.

So, if you want to feel elegant and dignified, with just the right mix of power and sensuality, here are 5 of my favorites to please during any time of day. While they aren't the luxury label, they can still bring all the incredible qualities that can enchant any audience.

Parfums De Marly Layton Clone – Which Is Right For Your Special Occasion?

Parfums de Marly is one of the most prestigious fragrance houses in the world. It has established itself as a leader in the sector by producing high-quality, desirable fragrances. Over the years, men have fallen in love with the company's many fragrances, but some stand out from the crowd. While there are others worth checking out, Layton has become its most cherished scent.

It features an irresistible amber, floral scent that is great for men and women. Since it was released in 2016, it has quickly become a top seller. Nevertheless, some people are looking for a cheaper alternative or a clone. Is there a suitable Parfums de Marly Layton clone that will still hit the senses just right?

Parfums De Marly Vs Creed – Which Is Best For You?

- About Layton
- Wanted Azzaro
  - Tobacco Collection Intense Dark
  - L'Uomo Gianfranco Ferre
  - Joop! Homme Joop!
  - Eros Versace
- What Is The Best Parfums De Marly Layton Clone?

About Layton

Before looking for a suitable clone, consumers should find out what makes Layton so special. The scent was created with help from famed industry expert Hamid Merati-Kashani who has worked with countless brands. When it first hit marketplaces in 2016, consumers fell in love with the unique amber, floral scent that was truly diverse enough to accommodate men and women. The fragrance's top notes include apple, bergamot, mandarin, and lavender while the middle notes are violet, jasmine, and geranium.

Finally, it includes base notes such as sandalwood, vanilla, pepper, cardamom, and patchouli. Layton comes in a beautiful bottle that will be sure to grab attention from the beginning. It is available in several sizes including 75ml and 125ml. According to the experts at Parfums de Marly, the fragrance emulates the core of debonair.

Thanks to its popularity, Layton is now available as a shower gel too. Is there a good clone that can properly replicate everything Layton has to offer?

Wanted Azzaro

Although it isn't a clone in the traditional sense, many will agree that Wanted Azzaro is a good alternative. Men will appreciate that the scent is much cheaper making it a good choice for all budgets. Top perfumers Olivier Cresp and Fabrice Pellegrin helped make the fragrance possible. Wanted by Azzaro was launched during the same year and has developed a following among men looking for a luxurious, affordable fragrance.

It has an alluring spicy, woody scent that will help you attract attention at work, school, and elsewhere. It has many of the same notes, including lavender, apple, and geranium. However, the scent is noticeably different thanks to the inclusion of tonka bean, amber wood, juniper, lemon, and ginger. Still, this is a good scent for men who love Layton.

Tobacco Collection Intense Dark

Although this fragrance opens differently, it has a scent that replicates the essence of Layton. Zara created one of its most popular scents in the Tobacco Collection Intense Dark which was launched in 2016. The scent is more affordable than what you can expect from Parfums de Marly, but the scent is still spectacular. The fresh, spicy scent combines vanilla, tobacco, and nature to create a beautiful scent that men with various preferences will love.

Tobacco Intense Dark Exclusive resembles Layton because it includes some of the same notes such as black pepper, apple, bergamot, and more. It is wise to experiment with this scent from Zara because fans of Layton will like it. Even better is the fact that the buyer will end up saving money in the long run. Just remember it is hard for fragrance houses to accurately reproduce the luxurious fragrances from Parfums de Marly.

L'Uomo Gianfranco Ferre

Are you looking for an affordable clone for Parfums de Marly Layton? While the others on this list are great, Ferre L'uomo by Gianfranco Ferre arguably replicates the scent better than others. Most men are going to love everything about this product including its fragrance and price. The bottle is unique too making it a good item for collectors. Gianfranco Ferre launched the fragrance in 2016. The amber scent will remind you of Layton to the point that you may not be able to tell the difference.

However, there are a few different notes that should be pointed out. For instance, L'Uomo features sage, green apple, cedar, and moss. While the scent is close to that of Layton, these additional notes ensure that L'Uomo stands out. Some men may prefer this scent to Layton. It is available in several sizes, including 30ml, 50ml, and 100ml.

It was created with assistance from Nicolas Beaulieu. L'Uomo is a great overall value for men looking for affordable scents that smell similar to Layton.

Joop! Homme Joop!

Although some people will say otherwise, you will be able to detect many similarities between Joop Homme Joop and Parfums de Marly Layton. Despite the price difference, the scents are often confused with one another because they're so similar. Joop is an amber Fougere scent designed specifically for men. It is an older fragrance that was created in 1989 by famed perfumer Michel Almairac. While the bottle is simple, it is tough so you can guarantee that it is built to last.

The sprayer mechanism works well to ensure that you're not going to encounter any problems. Thanks to powerful top notes like orange blossom, mandarin, lemon, and bergamot, the fragrance will receive many compliments from your coworkers. As for the middle notes, they include lily-of-the-valley, jasmine, cardamom, heliotrope, and cinnamon.

Joop Homme is a great fragrance that could be considered the best clone for Layton. You can't beat the price either.

Eros Versace

Versace is one of the most respected and well-known fashion brands in the industry. It should come as no surprise that its Eros fragrance is highly regarded. It was launched in 2012 after being created in conjunction with Aurelien Guichard. Mint, green apple, and lemon are the top notes making the aromatic scent green and fruity.

The bottle is a masterpiece of its own and durable so it can last a lifetime. Despite being noticeably different than Layton, it is sometimes considered a decent clone.

What Is The Best Parfums De Marly Layton Clone?

There are several suitable clones for Layton, but none of them can accurately replicate everything Layton has to offer. Still, any of the aforementioned scents will be sure to satisfy guys who are looking for a cheaper alternative. These scents closely resemble Layton and won't break the bank.

Parfums De Marly Layton Clone | How To Find

If you ever smelled Layton, you might be searching for a less expensive Parfums de Marly Layton clone. Layton is not a unique blend, yet it is considerably hard to find a great clone. Have you ever wondered why? I am here to explain this mystery, as well as to uncover the fittest clones you might want to try.

O, Layton! Why are you Layton?

Most likely, it is so because they wanted to sell something to make big bucks. Jokes aside, this scent comes off as nothing special. But, as you become addicted to it, you start to realize that you may do without it, but you won't deal with its absence in a detached way.

Noone couldn't accurately copy this formula, so we find alternatives that go in a similar direction. You can understand why it is by reading this article about Parfums de Marly Layton. Only the original will give you that blasting opening.

What do you want Layton?

Boss Bottled Intense by Hugo Boss will give you a crisp opening. This Eau de Parfum is a masculine scent with some spiciness. The main difference is the sillage. It won't give you that oniric sillage, but it will leave a pleasant trail. It will fade away quicker, and it is more appropriate for the night. If you want to daytime version, pick the standard Boss Bottled.

A sweeter unisex scent is Fusion Sacree Obscur by Majda Bekkali. It will give you more of the heart notes of Layton. After the first ten minutes, that rising citrusy note will last till the end. The spices hit you just right. It is like sipping an aromatic tea. With better sillage and performances than Layton, this will give you more of those sweet compliments.

For the club, Ultra Male by Jean Paul Gaultier shares the sweetness of the vanilla note. The cheapest formula that gets close to Layton is Jaguar Classic Gold by Jaguar. The opening is pretty citrusy, and you have both the green apple and the vanilla note. It has no energizing opening and less flowery heart notes.

5 Fragrances Similar to Parfums De Marly Layton [ in 2022 ]

For me, Parfums De Marly Layton is a compliments bomb. I'm pretty sure you're here just because of the price tag of PDM Layton.

I'm here to suggest to you the best colognes that smell like PDM Layton. With these colognes, you can get almost a similar reaction without paying extra.

Read on to find which PDM Layton clone suits you the most.

What Colognes Smells Similar to Parfums De Marly Layton?

Parfums De marly is famous for its masterpieces. And Layton plays the role of a Knight in PDM.

Layton was released in 2016. Layton is well-known for its fruity-spicy type of naughty behavior.

The top notes of Layton are apple, lavender, mandarin orange, and bergamot. In the middle, they chose violet, jasmine, and geranium.

They prepared a fantastic combination of wood, vanilla, and spices in the base, which is the main attraction of this fragrance.

In a word, Layton is a pure masterpiece. It's a fantastic smelling cologne and a huge compliments getter. But the price tag of PDM Layton is pretty high.

So, finding an alternative fragrance would be your best chance to smell like PDM Layton without losing an arm or a leg.

So, here are the best clones of Parfums De Marly Layton:

Alexandria Fragrances Royal Equestrian

Top notes: Apple, Citruses. Middle notes: Violet, Geranium. Base notes: Vanilla, Spices, Woody Notes, Amber.

First of all, the price range of Royal Equestrian is pretty good. It's neither much costly nor cheap. And probably, this is the most expensive clone on this list.

After the opening, there are very few chances to find the discrepancy between these two.

Confused? That's because I didn't even start to explain.

Specifically, the only difference between Royal Equestrian and PDM Layton is the opening. PDM Layton opens with a sparkling sour apple, while Royal Equestrian begins with a smooth sweet apple.

Before diving into other specifications, let me rave about the density first. Royal Equestrian is denser and darker than PDM Layton. Look, PDM Layton is airier. For this, PDM Layton is definitely easier to wear and to match with warm weather.

But in the case of Royal Equestrian, the darker juice will force you to wear this in cool weather.

Here's our complete guide on Tom Ford Tuscan Leather Clones

Well, amber and spices in the base make this fragrance more stunning. As they used precisely the same elements as PDM Layton in the middle without jasmine. But I'm pretty much sure you'll not find any differences between these two after the opening.

Just like PDM Layton, the longevity and the projection level of Royal Equestrian is also staggering. It easily lasts like 8-10hrs with a heavy projection.

Trust me, after wearing Royal Equestrian; people won't be able to differentiate Royal Equestrian from PDM Layton.

When to wear:

The best time to wear Winter, Spring, and fall.

Before wearing, remember that the juice is more intense than PDM Layton. So it demands a heavy dress to wear Royal Equestrian.

Why you should buy:

- Compliments getter.
- Excellent performance.
- Almost similar to PDM Layton.

- Luxurious scent.

Luxodor Loyal Agar

Top notes: Lavender, Bergamot. Middle notes: Amber Patchouli. Base notes: Vanilla, Tobacco, Tonka Bean.

Before diving into the review, let's talk about Luxodor for a moment. Luxodor is a UAE-based fragrance brand. Luxodor is renowned for offering affordable clones of popular fragrances. And here I'm with Loyal Agar, the clone of PDM Layton.

Significantly, Loyal Agar is more potent than PDM Layton itself. The longevity and the projection level both are higher than PDM Layton. But Loyal Agar is not an identical twin of PDM Layton. Let's dive into the fragrance to explore it.

Firstly, the opening is not the same as PDM Layton. We all love the smooth apple opening of PDM Layton, but Loyal Agar starts with dry amber and bergamot, which is very distant from the PDM Layton.

But surprisingly, after an hour, it perfectly mimics the drydown of PDM Layton. You'll find the same woody vibe along with some spices and vanilla, just like the Layton.

In fact, the base is more "Laytonish" than the Layton itself. In the time of base, it was still providing 3ft-4ft scent cloud. That time I was like, "My God! I found a gem".

As I said before, the performance is better than the PDM Layton. It easily lasts like 14-15hrs with a vast projection. Don't wait; buy this gem asap.

If we compare Loyal agar side by side with PDM Layton, there are some differences. Loyal Agar is less fruity and sweet than Layton. On the other hand, Loyal Agar is better in the case of performance.

Honestly, It's tough to blindfold this cheap clone which performs way better than the original. Miss this gem at your own risk.

When to wear:

The best time to wear Loyal Agar is winter and spring.

I'll suggest going easy with the sprayers. Five full sprays are enough to choke someone. So, it's better to spray less.

Why you should Buy:

- Excellent performance.
- Almost similar to PDM Layton.
- Amazing Price tag.

Costume national I

Top notes: Thyme, Saffron, bergamot. Middle notes: Labdanum, Lavender, Geranium. Base notes: Leather, Ambroxan, Cedar.

"There are no similarities in the notes. Why is this fragrance in here?" I'm pretty much sure you're thinking about something like this. Don't worry, Every question will be answered.

Well, CN I is not an Identical twin of PDM Layton. But in the air, they are 95% the same.

For example, if you are nitpicking among these two, you'll find some differences else; you won't find any divergences between CS I and PDM Layton. CS I can be defined as versatile Layton.

However, the opening of CS I is not the same as PDM Layton. PDM Layton opens with an apple burst, but CS I opens with bergamot and some flowers in this case.

After some time, in the base CS I replaced woody notes with ambroxan, which makes CS I more versatile and younger. For some time, it feels like a combination of Sauvage and Layton.

Looking for something different? Then check out Tom Ford Black Orchid Clones

Look, this is not the "Ultimate" Layton clone. As you can see, the opening is not the same; even the drydown acts differently.

But still, when you're wearing it, everyone will think you're wearing Layton. It's like a fresh Layton with one-fourth of the original price.

Just like PDM Layton, the projection level and the longevity are almost the same. It easily lasts like 7-8hrs with a strong projection.

When to wear:

This fragrance is perfect for winter and fall. For it's fresh behavior, you can wear this anywhere.

You can wear this fragrance as an office scent as well.

Why you should buy:

- Twist on PDM Layton.
- Versatile fragrance.
- Compliments getter.
- Good performance.

The Wood Collection Dusk

Top notes: Apple, Mandarin Orange, Lavender. Middle notes: Violet, Jasmine, Geranium. Base notes: Vanilla, Woody Notes, Cardamom, Pepper, patchouli, Sandalwood.

If you do not have PDM Layton, you might not see any difference between Dusk and Layton.

Apparently, they used the same elements as PDM Layton. While using Dusk, I felt like someone put Layton in another bottle and started selling it for half of a price.

Just like PDM Layton, Dusk starts with a smooth wave of Apple mixed with lavender. You may find some pepper in the opening. But trust me, after 15-20 mins this cologne exactly mimics PDM Layton.

Moreover, they totally copied the remarkable base of PDM Layton. In fact, you can't find any differences between these two. They perfectly reflect each other.

Additionally, the performance of this cologne is fantastic. I got around 9hrs of projection with 4hrs of solid projection. The bottle design is classy and elegant also.

In summary, Dusk is one of the closest alternatives to PDM Layton. They used the same notes, and the performance also is great.

- Elegant bottle.
- A perfect clone of Layton.
- Good performance.
- Low price.

Lord Town In The Box

Top notes: Apple, lavender, Tangerine, Bergamot. Middle notes: Geranium, Violet, Jasmine. Base notes: Vanilla, Cardamom, Guaiac Wood, Sandalwood, Pepper, patchouli.

Well, In The Box is a very high-quality cologne of Layton. If you love the original one, I'm pretty much sure this one will force you to love this.

Anyway, the opening is almost identical. I got the same apple vibe in the opening with some lavender. Surprisingly, I found this fragrance very synthetic and metallic.

Don't worry; amateur noses won't be able to notice any differences.

However, the base is almost the same as PDM Layton. The same woody-spicy vibe in the base. Honestly, In the box can be a great alternative to PDM Layton.

As it's not the original, there are some cons. The performance is not up to the mark. It lasts like 4-5hrs with moderate projection. But these cons are acceptable with the insanely low price.

When to wear:

Fall and winter is the best time to wear IN The Box. It's a nighttime fragrance.

Why you should buy:

- Low price.
- Inoffensive and versatile.

Final thoughts

PDM Layton is a legendary level fragrance. Finding an alternative to PDM Layton with a significantly lesser price was not an easy task.

Lastly, I'd say that if you're thinking about your pocket and want to smell PDM Layton, your only option would be to get a cologne that I've reviewed here.

My personal favorite from this list is Royal Equestrian. And if you're looking for an editor's choice, go for Costume National I.
