

For the Love of Frenchies

You have to be a special person to have a French Bulldog share your life. We have found out that they have the most amazing personalities and make us laugh at so many things they do throughout the day, but on the other hand they also can be that little 2 year old that never grows up. It is a breed that definitely keeps you on your toes at all times. It's almost like they are plotting the next thing to get in trouble for before they are even done with the first.

We found such a love for the Frenchies, we wanted to be a part of adding that kind of happiness to other people's lives.

We hope you enjoy them as much as we do.

I have titled this post "Time Flies" because I feel like that is just what happened. I blinked my eyes and life happened and perished all so quickly. I read this once and how simple and true. If the life of a dog doesn't teach you this then I don't know what will. "People are [...]"

- The Beginning

The beginnings of my love for the French Bulldog started with an unexpected friendship and a great friendship that has continued, more on the friendship later. I was at a local pet store when I saw a frenchie and asked if I could pet him, of course the answer was sure and that very day [...]"
